

I am a Classical archaeologist, graduated and specialized in the University of Florence. My researches are focused on Terracotta Anatomical Votive Offerings as well as Etruscan and Roman pottery productions and the history of ancient trades. I am a collaborator of Soprintendenza Archeologia per la Toscana on studying, editing and publishing archaeological materials. Archaeological excavations: among the others, the archaic Etruscan village of Macchia del Monte (Massa Marittima – GR), the large archaic Etruscan settlement of Gonfienti (PO), the Roman Villa of Poggio del Molino (Populonia – LI). I am a certified tour guide and a lecturer on various topics of ancient history.
